BRIDE OF LAST EVENING.

MRS. CHARLES G. CRANE.
Who was Miss Dorothy Crossley.

Bowers, Mrs. Hunt Thompson, Mr. Munson Morris of New York and Capt. Francis Parker.

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel P.

Davis in Chevy Chase was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening at 7:30 o'clock, when their niece, Miss Dorothy Crossley, daughter of Mrs. Arthur W. Crossley, became the bride.

of Dr. Charles G. Crane of Newark, N. J. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Wedderburn of the Foundry Methodist Episcopal Church in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. The rooms were beautifully decorated with annunciation lilies, palms and ferns, and the ceremony was performed in a bower of green in the drawing room.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Horace Chandler, wore a gown of white crepe meteor. The bodice was of chiffon and chintilly lace. Her tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower of bride roses and lilies of the valley. A diamond and pearl pendant set in platinum, the gift of the bridegroom, was her only ornament.

Miss Helen Crossley and Miss Grace Crossley, sisters of the bride, were her only attendants, and they wore gowns of pink crepe meteor and rainbow tulle, trimmed with iridescent embroidery. They carried bouquets of bridesmaid roses and ferns. Little Miss Gaylor Davis was the flower girl for her cousin, and she wore a dress of white shadow lace with pink tulle jacket and sash and carried a basket of pink roses. Mr. Howard Crane was the best man for his brother. A reception followed. Mrs. Crossley, mother of the bride, wore a gown of gray faille, trimmed with tulle and Irish lace, finished by a corsage bouquet of violets. Mrs. Crane of Newark, N. J., mother of the bridegroom, was in a gown of black chintilly lace over cloth of gold with trimmings of jet. Later Dr. and Mrs. Crane left for a wedding trip. Mrs. Crane wearing a smart tulle gown of brown gabardine, with hat to match. They will make their home at 72 Sherman avenue, Newark, N. J.
